Church Dress code and Modesty

Unfortunately, today a lot of people seem to forget they are attending church for the Sacred and Solemn Celebration of the Mass and fail at demonstrating modesty. Modern culture has done much to erode many of our traditions as well as decency and reverence. When you dress for Mass, you are not dressing to impress others, you are dressing for God. And dressing well often helps us and children more inclined to behave better during Mass. Two ends are thus reached: Practice respect and reverence for God and not to be a distraction or stumbling block to our fellow parishioners. So bodily demeanor (gestures, clothing) ought to convey the respect, solemnity, and joy of the moment when Christ becomes our victim our sacrifice and our guest.

Clement of Alexandria c. 195 AD says: Let a woman wear a plain and becoming dress, but softer than what is suitable for a man. Yet, it should not be immodest or entirely steeped in luxury. And let the garments be suited to age, person, figure, nature, and pursuits."

Choristers and ushers should be particularly mindful of how they dress for Mass, setting an example for the parishioners. It is highly disrespectful to sing to God of virtue and love while one practices indifference in dress to the Sacred space where Christ is offered upon the altar.

Also: First Corinthians 11 teaches that the head covering requirement falls equally upon both men and women. Men are to take their hats off during religious ceremonies, while women are to put a covering on. This is for two reasons. The first is the hat removal, as with the short hair for men, shows headship, while for the woman the long hair shows her glory, femininity and regard for God's order. Second: Because of the angels. In divine worship we are truly among the choirs of Angels in offering our Lord to the Father. This perfect offering demands each member stay in God's plan for them, and we injure this when we disturb the order of God. During Holy Mass, the focus is to always be on the Eucharist. As a sign of modesty and respect, the woman excuses her beautiful hair (by covering it) to call more attention to the greater beauty of God's presence in the Eucharist.
